2012 Transforming Local Government Conference and Exposition

April 18 - 20, 2012 | Kansas City, Missouri

Presented by the Alliance for Innovation

Co-Hosted By:

Nineteen Kansas City area local governments, KU Department of Public Administration, KACM, and MCMA.

The Alliance for Innovation

The Alliance for Innovation (Alliance) is a network of local government professionals seeking innovation and governmental excellence. The Alliance is the largest innovation based network serving local governments creating a special collaborative forum for learning, measured risk taking, exploration and discovery, and sharing of knowledge and experience.

Dr. James Svara, Director of the Center on Urban Innovation at Arizona State University completed an analysis of the entire membership and concluded that "80% of Alliance members are above the average city in their adoption of innovative practices."

Transforming Local Government Conference (TLG)

TLG attracts participation from local governments that are actively seeking new and innovative ways to connect people, information and ideas that support their efforts to be the best communities to live, grow, work, play and prosper. TLG is recognized for its dynamic content that encourages freethinking and fosters unprecedented ideas.

The conference is specifically designed to promote team building and to provide opportunities for sharing ideas. There are a combination of formal and informal activities that facilitate networking and exchanges among attendees. The scale of the conference allows local government professionals to participate in highly interactive conversations, to network directly with the presenters and to establish new and long lasting peer-to-peer contacts.

Who Will Attend

Historically TLG has attracted 500 to 600 local government professionals from every department and every level, as well as elected officials, university faculty, graduate students, Alliance Partners and private industry from across the U.S. and Canada. In the past, 50% to 70% of the conference attendees are City/County Managers, Assistant Managers and Department Heads. These decision makers are from small to large jurisdictions, traveling annually to be among their peers at this important conference. On average, 33% come from jurisdictions ranging from 10K to 100K and over 50% representing jurisdictions of 100K and above.

Why you should exhibit at TLG

The TLG is an excellent venue to showcase your company's innovative products and services. The TLG is a highly targeted conference that offers a more comfortable uncompleted face-to-face interaction environment between exhibitors and attendees. The Exhibit hall is limited to less than 60 booths by design, enabling exhibiting companies to develop memorable interactions with conference attendees. While International in scope, the attendance size of TLG offers exhibitors the ability to meet directly with a greater number of qualified leads!

Please read these instructions thoroughly prior to filling out any forms pertaining to the exhibit hall, sponsorship or speaking opportunities. They provide step-by-step directions to participate in the conference or partner with the Alliance in other opportunities.

Imagining Innovations of the Future

2012 Transforming Local Government Conference and Exposition

April 18 - 20, 2012 | Kansas City, Missouri

Presented by

Hosted By

Nineteen Kansas City area local governments,
KU Department of Public Administration,
KACM, and MCMA.

Just a few things attendees are saying about the TLG Conference

The TLG Conference is by far one of the best professional development opportunities I attend each year. Every session I have participated in at TLG has been fantastic and the opportunities to network with my peers are endless. Many great things have happened in our City as a result of the knowledge gained at this conference and through our work with the Alliance."

Holly Eskridge

Assistant to the City Manager, Rock Hill, SC

I think the outstanding sentiment about the TLG conference is the fact that it provides the opportunity to experience the community of government purpose. The learning workshops, the speakers, and the various sessions provided give the participants new energy and a sense of reinforced commitment. Those who attended will surely carry that energy and commitment back to their own respective cities."

Raymond R. Patchett

Former City Manager, Carlsbad, CA

The Conference encouraged us to ask questions, seek answers, and embrace continuous improvement within our organizations and ourselves. Each year, I say that the Transforming Conference cannot get better, but it does!"

Ken Parker

City Manager Port Orange, FL

As I traveled to the Transforming Local Government / FCCMA Conference on June 1 it was with great anticipation, and I must tell you, the programs, the speakers and the networking represented for me one of the best and most meaningful experiences I have ever had. Having been in City management for 35 years, you can imagine how many conferences I have attended, but without a doubt the TLG/FCCMA Conference brought value to the work we do. I look forward to the next State partnership when TLG partners with the Kansas City & Missouri Managers! Kansas City here I come!

Jim Holgersson

City Manager, Arlington, TX and Member of the Alliance for Innovation Board of Directors
